IR 4265 EUROPEAN FOREIGN, SECURITY AND DEFENCE POLICIES (Previously IR 4365) (Updated Fall 2023)
US CREDITS: 3/0/3 UK LEVEL:6 UK CREDITS:15
PREREQUISITES:	PO 31XX European Institutions and Decision Making IR 3225 Foreign Policy
CATALOG DESCRIPTION:	Current internal and external forces driving European foreign, security and defence policy designs. Key factors involved in shaping the European security environment. The European Union’s presence on the international stage as an economic, diplomatic, military and ‘soft’ power and future perspectives, particularly following Russia’s invasion of Ukraine. Examination of the on-going wider policy debates and challenges through a focused analysis of case-studies.
RATIONALE:	This module equips students with the conceptual tools necessary to understand the factors that shape European foreign, security and defence policies. Students gain awareness of the EU as an economic ‘superpower’, with huge leverage in the areas of international trade, investment, finance, and foreign assistance; as a potential military power; and as an unrivalled projector of ‘soft power’. Students become cognizant of the current debate regarding the future of the European security structure and direction, including its future relationships with the US, NATO, its neighbourhood (Eastern Mediterranean, North Africa, Middle East), Russia and China.
LEARNING OUTCOMES:	As a result of taking this course, the students should be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Demonstrate understanding of the process of European integration and its relationship with the broader fields of international relations, foreign, security and defense issues.</li> <li>2. Analyze in depth key developments, challenges and issues that configure Europe’s security environment and architecture with reference to the role of the key national, international, and transnational state and non-state actors.</li> <li>3. Examine and critically evaluate various perspectives, future opportunities, and policy options in sensitive international relations and defense issues facing Europe’s security environment.</li> </ol>
METHOD OFTEACHING AND LEARNING:	In congruence with the teaching and learning strategy of the college, the following tools are used: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Lectures and class discussions</li> <li>• Homework assignments.</li> <li>• Office hours held by the instructor to provide further assistance to</li> </ul>
