(Updated Fall 2021)

UK LEVEL: 5
UK CREDITS: 15
US CREDITS: 3/0/3

PREREQUISITES: MG 2014 Introduction to HRM

CATALOG DESCRIPTION: Models, methods, and practices of employee acquisition, including, human resource planning, job analysis, recruitment, selection and retention management, to achieve organizational effectiveness.

RATIONALE: Talent acquisition is a critical organizational and primary human resource function, concerned with the acquisition, deployment, and retention of the organization's workforce. This course examines the core staffing activities, i.e. recruitment, selection, and employment, as well as the staffing support activities, such as legal compliance, human resource planning, and job analysis. Knowledge in these areas is needed by students who plan to work in the human resource management profession or in other managerial or entrepreneurial positions.

LEARNING OUTCOMES: As a result of taking this course, the student should be able to:

1. Explain staffing core activities, and examine how these activities contribute to retention management and organizational effectiveness.
2. Explain staffing support activities, and examine how these activities contribute to an effective staffing system.
3. Analyze and apply knowledge of the staffing function to contemporary organizations.

METHOD OF TEACHING AND LEARNING: In congruence with the learning and teaching strategy of the college, the following tools are used:

- Class lectures, interactive learning, class discussions, video presentations, and practical problems solved in class.
- Exercises and primary source documents, which are reviewed in class
- Office hours: students are encouraged to make full use of the office hours of their instructor, where they can ask questions, see their exam paper, and/or go over lecture material.
- Use of Blackboard, where instructors post lecture notes, online quizzes assignment instructions, required readings, timely announcements, as well as additional resources.
