| UK LEVEL 6 UK CREDITS: 15 US CREDITS: 3/0/3 | |
| (Spring 2022) | |
| PREREQUISITES: | SO 1000 Introduction to Sociology OR SO 1001 Sociology of Modern Life SO 3260 Classical Sociological Theory AND One more Level 5/3000 level course in Sociology |
| CATALOG DESCRIPTION: | Extensive critical investigation of a sociological theory and research field inspired by classical sociological theory or an exposé of a social theorist or school of thought beyond or against the 'canon' that is not covered, or not covered in detail in the curriculum of sociology. Selection of topics from a variety of social theory and research. |
| RATIONALE: | This course invites students to the study of past and current sociology that offers a critical and systematic re-assessment of the theoretical, epistemological and research models proposed by classical sociology. More than that, it encourages them to explore the development of additional or new 'ways of seeing' the social world beyond the 'canon'. Ultimately, the course introduces students to an in-depth advanced exploration of such specialized models and of sociology as an inherently reflective discipline. The instructor and subject of the course will vary from time to time in accordance with the specialization of the department's faculty and guest sociologists. |
| LEARNING OUTCOMES: | As a result of taking this course, the students should be able to: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Demonstrate a sophisticated interpretation of social and sociological theory and research. 2. Compare and contrast relations and differences between past and present theoretical and research approaches to society and social phenomena. 3. Construct focused theoretical and empirical analyses to the study of specific authors and fields of sociological inquiry. 4. Combine theoretical and historical knowledge in the reflective study of society and sociology itself. |
| METHOD OF TEACHING AND LEARNING: | In congruence with the teaching and learning strategy of the college, the following tools are used: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> — Seminar-structured classes (combination of lectures and class discussions). |

- Office Hours: Students are encouraged to make full use of the office hours of their instructor, where they can ask questions and go over lecture material.
- Use of Blackboard, where instructors post lecture notes, assignment instructions, timely announcements, as well as additional resources.
