Board Chair's Message

It is a distinct privilege for me to serve as Chair of the Board of Trustees of The American College of Greece. As U.S. Ambassador to Greece from 2010 – 2013, I am keenly aware of the significant contributions made by ACG over the course of its nearly 150-year history. With a heightened sense of Greece's strategic regional importance at this historical moment, I am also cognizant of the important contribution ACG is positioned to make currently and in the future.

My colleagues and I on the Board of Trustees are delighted with ACG's positive development in recent years, including as documented in this 2022 Annual Report. We are committed to continuing to collaborate with and support President Horner and the College's faculty, staff, students, and alumni as we pursue together the best and most impactful future for this unique educational institution.

We are also grateful for the increasing level of support provided by ACG alumni and friends. The financial model of American independent, nonprofit educational institutions requires that tuition be supplemented by philanthropic resources. Therefore, the partnership of alumni and friends is an essential element in the College's ability to fulfill its potential.

From the Board's perspective, the fulfillment of that potential is the great opportunity that stands before us in the years ahead.

The American College of Greece

President's Message

2022 was marked by the decisive continuation of ACG's positive trajectory established over the past several years. Despite the Greek financial crisis, followed by the unexpected and unwelcome arrival of the Covid pandemic, ACG has grown in remarkable ways: quantity, quality and diversity of enrollment; academic program and faculty and staff development; campus expansion; constituency engagement and support; economic, cultural and social impact.

Especially notable in 2022 was the establishment of two new entities: the Pierce Pre-K, K and Elementary School and The American University of Greece in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Both entities hold considerable potential to deepen and broaden the impact of ACG in the short and longer-term.

Since its introduction in 2008-09, the ACG 150 Strategic Plan has guided the institution's operations. The fact that most of the ambitious targets projected in the plan have been reached or surpassed – two years ahead of the 2025 goal – is a testament to the effective work of ACG staff and faculty, as well as the dedication of ACG alumni, friends and volunteers, including the ACG board of trustees.

As we reflect this year on the tragic circumstances of Smyrna in 1922 that led to the College's relocation to and rebirth in Greece, It continues to be an honor for me to lead an institution with such an extraordinary history and an impactful future, surrounded and supported by exceptional colleagues and associates.

Opening Ceremony for the Pierce Kindergarten and Elementary East Campus (September 5, 2022)

The Fellows Program (recent U.S. college grads in P-K and K classrooms) appears to be a great success with young learners and families.

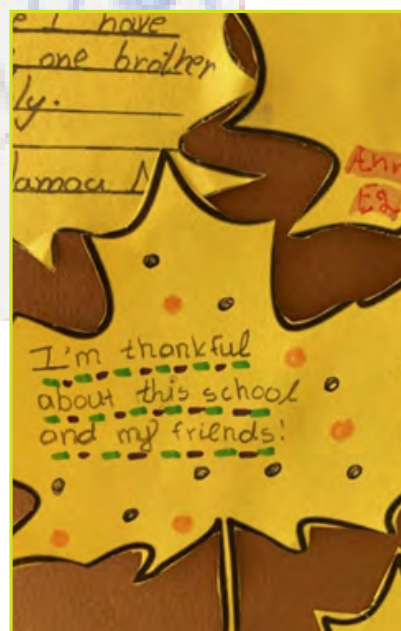

First Christmas Bazaar!

The Kindergarten in collaboration with the elementary school actively participated in the organization of our School's Christmas Bazaar! On Saturday, December 17, the Aghia Paraskevi campus was transformed into a Christmas village, where our children in the role of seller, cashier, packer and auctioneer sold everything they had prepared at the school!

The beginning operations of the new Pierce P-K, K and Elementary have gone very well overall, with very positive feedback regarding the academic program, quality of faculty and staff and facilities.

100 Years from Smyrna Catastrophe

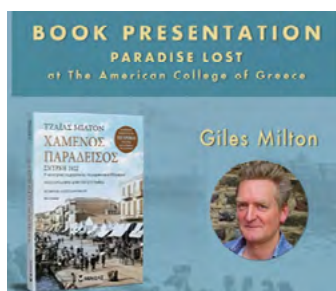

ACG Archives participated in the Benaki Museum exhibition ASIA MINOR HELLENISM: Heyday – Catastrophe – Displacement – Rebirth to commemorate the centennial anniversary of the Asia Minor Catastrophe. ACG's history is deeply rooted in Smyrna, and we have contributed to the exhibition's primary archival sources related to the tragic events of 1922.

At the Aghia Paraskevi campus, there is a special display about Smyrna at the College Library Digital Museum. There you will find two documents of an eyewitness account by Minnie B. Mills presenting a day-by-day narration of the catastrophic events.

"OUR GIRLS ... They are the vanguard of thousands of young women seeking a higher education."

Brochure, An American College for Women in Ancient Smyrna, 1922

Public events were organized as part of a tribute to Smyrna, "Remembering 1922: Commemorating the Asia Minor catastrophe – Honoring ACG's roots"

Acclaimed author and journalist, Giles Milton, presented the anniversary edition of his book Paradise Lost and engaged in a panel discussion on Smyrna pre and post the catastrophe with S. Ploumidis, Asst. Professor, History and Archaeology Dept. at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens and moderator Haris Vlavianos, Deree Professor of History. (October 3, 2022)

Lou Ureneck, Professor of Journalism at Boston University, 2016 Eleftherios Venizelos Chair Lecturer and the author of "Smyrna, September 1922," presented a historical, comprehensive account of events in Smyrna during that calamitous month in 1922 and Evanthis Chatzivassiliou, Professor of Contemporary History at the University of Athens and the Secretary-General of the Hellenic Parliament Foundation for Parliamentarism and Democracy discussed the events of the refugee influx to Greece. (October 17)

Eleftherios Venizelos Chair Lecture 2022: "What's the story? History and the meanings of 1922"– A lecture by Christine Philliou, Professor of History and Director of the Ottoman and Turkish Studies and Modern Greek Studies Programs at UC Berkeley, in a commemoration of the loss of Hellenism in Asia Minor, presented the legacy by considering narratives, taken from contemporary sources, including the episodes in the story of Pierce College, and took us to Berlin, the US, and back to Western Macedonia, in an attempt to show how we can broaden our understanding by thinking historically and turning our attention ever so slightly in other directions. (November 3)

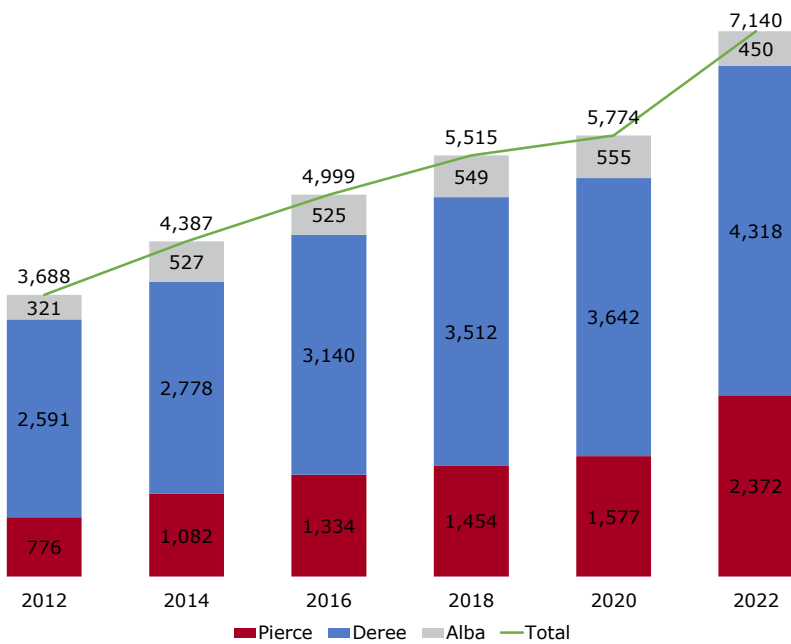

From Smyrna to Greece: Education and Entrepreneurship: ACG and the Association of S.A. and Entrepreneurship co-organized an event including panel discussions and presentations, which underlined the success of the Greek business community in Smyrna and presented the significance, for the local, multi-ethnic, community, of The American Collegiate Institute (ACI) for Girls. Also, it illustrated the success story of both ACG and the Association of S.A. and Entrepreneurship, one of the founders of the University of Piraeus and their contribution to the economic and educational development of Greece. (May 31).

“Now, I am dreaming about the future again, to study at the university, to learn new things, to make friends, to live a normal life. I don’t want to cry anymore... I am glad to see the flag of my country everywhere, but I know that it has to do with the war, with the refugees... I don’t know if I will ever be able to forget the bombardments, the shrilling sound of war sirens, and the fear. I have hope. I have dreams again, that can now come true!” Alica

My Experience at The American College of Greece

I was on the fence about studying abroad in Greece because I was the only student from my university who choose Greece, I know now that this was the best decision I've ever made. I studied abroad at the American College of Greece for the Spring semester in 2022 and will forever reflect on my time in this inviting country. The Academic and Housing staff for students abroad at ACG were very supportive and truly cared about the success of all their students. The dorms and college were in Agia Paraskevi which was a safe neighborhood with many stores for all your needs within walking distance, and downtown Athens was only a quick metro ride away!

ACG made sure to contribute to the knowledge of international students by hosting multiple excursions where we were able to not only learn about the history of Greece but also immerse ourselves in the culture as well. My favorite trips hosted by ACG included the downtown Athens tour, Acropolis tour, and the day trip to Nafplion. This gave me the opportunity to explore beautiful landmarks, learn about history and meet other students who were housed in different buildings.

What I am most grateful for after my time at ACG, was the community and memories it left me with. I met such wonderful people that I will cherish forever and am still adding to that community! I chose to document my experience online through YouTube, where I share my experience at ACG in hope to attract more people to study at this wonderful institution, because of how impactful this experience was on my life. Through this documentation, ACG not only gave me a platform to add to the community they left me with but also gave me the opportunity to encourage or help others to take the leap and consider ACG as their study abroad institution. So, if you are looking for a place that supports you in all your academic endeavors, cares about your success, and takes you in as their own, then ACG is the place for you. Take a chance, choose Greece, choose ACG!
